Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 8, line 12, with the following amended paragraph:

By this configuration, since it is fixed ~~fix~~ to execute the process on the basis of the state information of the operation article, there is no need to provide a switch, an analog stick and the like on the operation article for fixing the execution of the process, resulting in not only the reduction of the production cost of the operation article but also the improvement of the user-friendliness.
